Note: Election results are based on those published by states or newspapers as of the writing of this release.

¹ Latinos currently serving in the Illinois State Senate includes State Senator Miguel Del Valle (D), who has been appointed to serve as Chicago City Clerk. It is expected that State Senator Del Valle will leave his State Senate seat early next year. It is likely that another Latino will be appointed to his seat.

² In order to provide comparability with the data from other states, the number of Latinos currently in State Senates includes former Texas State Senator Frank Madla, who resigned from office in May 2006. Madla's seat was filled in the November election by State Representative Carlos Uresti (D).
